

Weak and Exhausted—Almost Ready to Surrender and Cease Fighting the Battle of Life.

If your blood circulates poorly and your nerves are weak; if you are despondent and discouraged, with stomach out of order, and have indigestion, sick-headache, weak muscles, and you find your day's duties almost too much for you—then there is help for you in

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

It will arouse the digestive glands to more activity, will purify your blood, help you to refreshing sleep, and give renewed force, tone, and strength to your system in general. Ayer's Sarsaparilla has benefited many thousands of tired and discouraged people and will surely benefit you.

As now made, Ayer's Sarsaparilla contains no alcohol.

There are many imitation Sarsaparillas. Be sure you get "AYER'S."

Given a gas light and twenty other lights in a house you will see all of the children studying under the one gas light.

Emperor William has a special fondness for dramas which have to do with his Hohenzollern ancestors. His leading dramatist in this line is Maj. Joseph Lauff—a man absolutely lacking in literary skill and as a playwright beneath criticism—who has written a number of plays about more or less obscure Hohenzollern princes, all dedicated to the emperor and regarded by his majesty as first rate works of art. The worst of it is that the emperor seems to be alone in this opinion.

The problem of making self-moving vehicles to plow and sow, to reap and mow, has been solved. It has been demonstrated that they can be made to do all the work of this kind under favorable conditions and on all classes of soil at less than half the cost and time and with less than a third of the number of men required to do the work by any other method. And, adds Motor Car, optimistically, after these selfmoving machines have tilled the soil and harvested the crops they will take them to market.

MY PA AND I.

My pa he didn't go down-town
Last evening after tea,
But got a book an' settled down
As com'f'y as could be.
I'll tell you I was awful glad
To have my pa about!
To answer all the things I had
Been tryin' to find out.

And so I asked him why the world
Was round, instead of square?
And why the piggies' tails are curled?
And why don't fish breathe air?
And why the moon don't hit a star?
And why the dark is black?
And just how many birds there are?
And will the wind come back?

And why does water stay in wells?
And why do June-bugs hum?
And what's the roar I hear in shells?
And when will Christmas come?
And why the grass is always green,
Instead of sometimes blue?
And why a bean will grow a bean,
And not an apple, too?

And why a horse can't learn to moo?
And why a cow can't neigh?
And do the fairies live on dew?
And what makes hair grow gray?
And then my pa got up, an' gee!
The awful words he said!
I hadn't done a thing, but he
Jes' sent me off to bed.

REBELLION IN CHINA.

A rebellion in China, as a rule, is a comparatively harmless affair. The people inform the governor that his exactions are in excess of custom and that he must reduce them. If he agrees the matter ends. If not, there is a demonstration and perhaps some shooting, but this is only preliminary to a compromise, for the Peking government never backs up its officials when force has to be resorted to, and the people have far too much respect for authority to push any successes to extremes.

Mr. Fastset (with Extra!!!)—Sensational elopement! Well, what do you think of that? Young Galey has run off with his father's stenographer! Mrs. Fastset—Heavens! Why, it'll break the poor old man's heart. Mr. Fastset—Oh, I don't know. There are just as pretty stenographers in the employment agency as ever were hired.—Puck.

India will eventually control the Oriental coal markets. At present Japan is her only competitor, but Japan's coal area is only 6000 square miles, with an annual output of 10,000,000 tons. India's present output is not so much, but her possibilities as a coal producer are far greater than Japan's even including the Fushun mines in Manchuria.

One of the most remarkable cases of heart displacement known to science was shown at the autopsy in the New York morgue recently on the body of Michael Kruckman of Jersey City. It appeared that Kruckman's heart had been pushed out of its pericardial sac and was crushed up against the lung. He had lived thus for twenty-three days.

STYLE AND WEAR . . .

Copyright 1907 by
Hart Schaffner & Marx

The character of the clothing made by Hart, Schaffner & Marx is so superior to that of other tailors that it is looked upon by smart dressers as a creation. That's as to style. The material from which suits and single garments are made is the best. The woollens are all wool and the silks all silk, no cotton and wool mixed in these suits and "nearsilk" has no part in their makeup. Durability is the warp and the woof of the goods. Ninety per cent of all the well dressed men on the mainland wear these suits and the number of Hart, Schaffner & Marx dressed men in Hawaii is rapidly increasing. Notice the hang of the trousers! Long enough to turn without making ridges and with a noticeably graceful swing. The collars and lapels on the coats set flat and lay as flat as modern tailoring, based on scientific principles of cutting, can devise. There is no guesswork about Hart, Schaffner & Marx clothing, "Superiority" is the slogan from mill to consumer.

timated, carry over 600,000,000 persons yearly, of which the underground lines accommodate 258,000,000. There are nearly 600 railway stations in Greater London, and into the trunk line stations alone pour annually over 300,000,000 passengers.

The little girl admired her mother's dress, stroking it softly. "Isn't it pretty?" said her mother. "It is silk. Do you know what silk is made from?" "No, mamma." "It comes from a little, insignificant worm." "Do you mean father, mamma?" asked Isabel. —Chicago Tribune.
